

INTRAMURAL RECREATIONAL SPORTS PRESENTS T-SHIRT DESIGN CONTEST

The image shows a screenshot of a t-shirt design software interface. The main window displays a white t-shirt with a design that says "I ♥" followed by a red heart. The design is being edited. The interface includes a "Shopping Basket" at the top left showing "0 articles(s) : 0,00 €". The main menu has "PRODUCTS", "DESIGNS", and "TEXT" tabs. The "TEXT" tab is active, showing a text input field with "write text here" and a "font" dropdown set to "Arial". The "DESIGNS" tab shows a grid of various graphics like a heart, wings, a power button, and a person. The "PRODUCTS" tab shows a "Men's Classic T-Shirt" with a "T-shirt color" palette. The "Edit design" panel at the bottom left includes "Size" (100%), "Rotation" (0°), "Position", "Flip", and a "Flex Print" color palette. Annotations in red text point to various features: "selected color" points to the color palette; "rotate" and "scale" point to rotation and scaling handles on the t-shirt; "Toggle text / graphic mode" points to the "TEXT" tab; "You can go through the graphics here" points to the "DESIGNS" tab; "When you select a graphic here, it's shown on the t-shirt" points to a graphic in the "DESIGNS" grid; and "font" points to the font dropdown in the "TEXT" tab.
